

REBELS NOW CONTROL KING MANUEL'S DOMAIN

REPUBLIC IS PROCLAIMED KING. SAFE

(By Associated Press.)

King Manuel today is an exile from his capitol which remains for the moment at least, in undisputed control of the Revolutionists. Public order has been restored at Lisbon and the populace is peacefully celebrating the advent of the republic proclaimed yesterday.

This much is known from a few cable dispatches the censor permitted to go out of the capitol. Of the other events throughout Portugal little definite is learned. Interest centers in the whereabouts of King Manuel and the question whether the republic will endure. Communication between Lisbon and the provinces has been severed and the attitude of the people in the country is in doubt.

There are rumors that the loyalist forces are moving on the capitol and threatening civil war. These cannot be confirmed, but the loyalists cherish the hope that the uprising in the country districts will restore the monarchy.

(By United Press.)

Via mail to Carcavellos, Oct. 6.—King Manuel will not be caught. Men high in the counsel of the Republic here say his escape was carefully planned by them as ment joined the people and fired on the police. The warships in the harbor heard the firing and at once ran up the rebel flag and sent men ashore to help their fellow revolutionists. The police broke and fled. The shooting aroused the city and the Republicans flocked into the street all armed. In half an hour more than half the soldiers and sailors had joined the rebels. The attack on the palace then began with all the artillery in the hands of the rebels.

After 31 hours fighting the palace surrendered and the people went wild with joy. At first the king was believed captured, but later the leaders announced he had escaped.

The fatalities will number 50 to 75. The rebels completely control the city and are rapidly restoring order.

200 Killed,
450 Wounded.

(By United Press.)

Dajose, Spain, Oct. 6.—Portuguese refugees arriving here report 200 killed and 450 wounded during the fighting at Lisbon. They claim this is a conservative estimate. The city was but slightly damaged.

King's Palace
Dynamited.

(By United Press.)

Madrid, Spain, Oct. 6.—A Lisbon dispatch received here says the rebels have dynamited the king's palace. The fact that communication has not been restored leads many to think that fighting is still going on.

Everything Is Lovely.

Liverpool, Oct. 6.—The Portuguese consul here received a cablegram dated at Lisbon and timed noon today, saying that all is quiet at the capital.

MANUEL'S MISTRESS MAKES A STATEMENT

(Copyrighted by the United Press.)

Vienna, Oct. 6.—"I know of no disgrace in being the mistress of a King, but I would consider it everlasting disgrace to advertise our relationship, glorified as it was, by a love which even court and conventionality could not throttle."

"Yes, I was Manuel's mistress, but I did not make capital out of my relations with him."

"The king only gave me some presents which even a poor man could afford without extravagance. I believe my income is greater than that of the king."

"It is better for the young king to abdicate. He will be happier now, than he was among all his troubles as king."

The above are extracts from an interview given to the United Press by Madame Gaby Deslys, who is appearing at a theatre here. She is drawing immense crowds and wears at every performance the diamond sunburst given her by Manuel.

To the audience each sparkling stone represents hunger and poverty in miserable Portugal. She says she met Manuel at a theatre and they fell in love at first sight.

She denies that she lived in the palace while in Lisbon, but says she had a hotel suite nearby and saw the king constantly.

She angrily denies that she caused his downfall and seemed disturbed when told of his danger.

They did not wish their cause to be darkened by his assassination. They are helping circulate the conflicting rumors as to his whereabouts to prevent any hasty revolutionist from harming him. The men at the head of this revolution are remarkably clear-headed and far-sighted and they are bending every effort to stop disorder. Their great fear is intervention by a foreign power, especially England. All existing treaty with foreign governments will be observed by the new republic. Leaders say when the means of quick communication with the interior are re-established and news of their success reached the provinces they will come over to the support of the Republicans without further hesitating. Tuesday's revolution was partly an accident. The Republicans had their plans all matured for weeks, but had set no date. The temper of the people was at white heat over the king's mistress and the assassination of Dr. Bombardas. On Tuesday a crowd of people threw a priest into the river. The police charged the mob and a passing regi-

Identical notes were sent out by Braga to all the powers.

Revolutionists
Are In Control.

(By Associated Press.)

London, Oct. 6.—The British minister of Villiers at Lisbon telegraphed the foreign office early today that the Republic revolution had apparently been accomplished and there seemed to be no reason to fear further violence. The minister states the whereabouts of King Manuel is unknown to him but he is assured, however, the minister adds, on Dr. Bombardas. On Tuesday a crowd of people threw a priest into the river. The police charged the mob and a passing regi-

Madrid, Spain, Oct. 6.—The struggle between the revolutionists and the loyalists at Lisbon continues today. Advice from the Portuguese capitol, the authenticity of which can be safely assumed, are meagre. The reports of continued fighting, however, are from a new source and may have escaped the censors. The intelligence is significant as putting a new light on the situation. Practically all of the dispatches that found their way out of the Portuguese capitol during last night conveyed the impression that the revolutionists are in complete control and the populace had accepted the republic as an accomplished fact.

One dispatch which came out from Lisbon early today by way of Vigo, declared the Monarchist troops still held important points last evening and that continued fighting during the night was expected. It admitted, however, the Republicans had gotten the upper hand after thirty hours of fighting.

This dispatch said a moderate estimate of loss on both sides was two hundred dead and four hundred and fifty wounded. The city was but slightly damaged by the bombardment.

The republic was proclaimed amid frantic enthusiasm. Bands paraded the streets followed by columns of armed persons who sang songs of liberty. The discipline of the revolutionists was excellent.

BEATTY REFUSES PLEA FOR SCHOOL

Judge T. O. Beatty on Thursday rendered his decision in the matter of the application for the establishing of a special school district at Sciotoville. The application was refused for the following reasons:

The total tax duplicate of the territory sought to be incorporated in the special district is $461,850, while the total tax duplicate of Porter township including the proposed territory sought to be incorporated but excluding the Wheelersburg special school district is $498,050 and the difference between the township duplicate and the duplicate of the territory sought to be incorporated is but $36,200. Thus the two districts of Wait and Hartly which are not included in the proposed territory would have to be supported on this duplicate which at 3 mills the highest possible tax rate for tuition purposes would only yield an income of $325 to support these two schools. The deficit of course could be made up by state aid but the judge did not wish to throw the responsibility on the commonwealth.

Again, the court said that from evidence produced at the hearing and from facts which he had learned outside, many of the children would have to walk a distance of from one-half to two miles through fields before getting to the place where they would then be picked up by wagons and hauled over five miles. This fact the court held would be injurious to the health of the children.

Another reason for his refusing the application was that the application was signed by about 85 citizens while the remonstrance was signed by equally as many who were just as good citizens as those who petitioned for the district.

The judge also stated that the Sciotoville people were asking of the probate court that which the school board has the right to do itself; that is the establishing of a high school there.

The court stated that he was of the opinion that the Sciotoville schools could be bettered a great deal but that could be done by the school board. He said that the schools lacked adequate supervision on the part of the school board.

The costs in the case were taxed against the applicants.

Messrs. Harding, Dick and Denman will arrive here Saturday noon from Columbus, while Congressman Longworth is billed to arrive from Cincinnati on the N. & W. train that arrives here at 11:40. It is quite likely the "distinguished statesman" will be entertained by ex-Congressman Bannon during their brief sojourn in Portsmouth. Do beat thunder how these Foraker partisans are slipping up on the "old guard."

Gold Thief Is Nabbed

A telegram was received Thursday noon containing the advice that Emil Cornette, the South Union street boy, who made a successful get-away with $30 belonging to James Burton, a grocer of this city, was under arrest at Maysville, Ky. The youth was taken into custody by Chief Harry Ort in that city last night. He has been ordered to bring back to Portsmouth and is expected on Thursday evening.

Fifty dollars were taken in all and the $20 kept by Burton's son has been recovered. Cornette's father who is a mill man, is trying to compromise the case.

BULL DOG PROTECTS HENERY

Better be "kerful" of that bull dog tied near Ed Andre's henery for if you don't you are liable to have to take a trip south where Jack Frost is mureful upon the unclad.

A few nights ago some thoughtless cuss walked right into Andre's henery at the rear of the Empire hotel and carried away thirty of his thoroughbred hens which Ed thought more of than he would of a forty acre farm in Huntington. Ed has enlisted the service of a big bull dog which he keeps tied in the midst of his flock. He says that it is not necessary to say "kick 'em Tige" to his trusty sentinel for the old chap is continually on his guard and wagging his tail for someone who looks suspicious.

DIPHTHERIA CAUSED BY BONFIRES

In a conversation with a Times man Thursday a prominent citizen whose home has seen several severe cases of diphtheria, attributed the epidemic now raging among the children of the city to falling leaves and bonfires. Strange as it may seem the gentleman offered substantiated proofs for his extraordinary theory. He declared that in four cases out of five the victim of the contagion has either built and played near the heavy smoke of burning leaves. For proof he cited instances in the cases in his own family that were absolutely convincing. Investigations show the man to be fairly correct in his theory that burning leaves or a peculiar fungus on the leaves is attributable for the spread of diphtheria. Either there is some foundation for his beliefs or there are such unusual coincidences preceding each case.

The Voltaire and LaFayette Kid Gloves For Women, $1.00 and $1.50 a Pair

The test of a person's character or his worth is the way he acts in a crisis. This is the case with stores. The test of a store is the way it acts in a crisis. A little information on the buying and selling of merchandise by stores will not be amiss here in explaining or pointing. Kid gloves have advanced in price. So much so that it is impossible for stores to carry the best grades of gloves that have heretofore sold at $1.00 and $1.50 pair, at those prices now. Last January, we anticipated this advance in the price of kid gloves and bought enough to last us through the coming Christmas season. In other words we, at one time bought enough kid gloves to last us the entire year. Such a tremendous order being placed at one time, even with one of the largest importers of kid gloves in the United States, fairly staggered them and they at once wrote us for a re-confirmation of the order to be sure no mistakes were made. The facts of the case were that this importing house did not want to pledge itself for such a great amount of kid gloves at a certain price in the face of certain advantages. But our orders had to be accepted and the gloves must be delivered to us. We are getting these gloves right along and have complete lines and sizes now, but what is of more importance is that we are selling the same good gloves at the same old prices, while to buy them today would mean at least 25c a pair added cost to you. This is the method we serve our customers and your patronage will repay us. You can't get better gloves for $1.00 and $1.50 than the Voltaire and La Fayette. We have them. Beware of the store that offers you a new dollar glove "as good as the old one he used to carry" for he has cheapened his line.

Fashion's Newest Dress Goods and Silks

We don't claim to have all and the only good stylish dress goods and silks in the city, but our position in the shopping life of Portsmouth certainly demonstrates that we are leaders in these lines. No one store can have everything the best, yet there are lines that a store can excel in and know that they excel. We feel sure of the dress goods and silk lines and we have no hesitancy in so stating. And we would not make a statement here that in a half hour's time you could prove false. We invite comparison. Comparison of values, comparison of prices and don't forget comparison of assortments and styles, for here is the noticeable difference. Stores have not the same assortment of shades and novelties when they are new. For this reason you should not pass The Big Store when in search of dress goods and silks.

SAME OLD CREW SAME OLD MEANS

Boss Clark is gathering his gang and his henchmen for the hardest fight of his life in a county election. He knows his peril and is making ready to meet it as best he can.

It is singular, however, that experienced as he is in such affairs and so reputed for sagacity he should use the same old henchmen and the same old tactics. First in his councils are "Billy-Doo" Gima, of "longage" fame, John Higgins, alias "Big," Zell Neff, "Heinie," "Swinie," Stevie and the rest of the delectable bunch of parasites and pap-suckers, who swarm about headquarters every campaign like yellow-jackets about a rotting apple. Here and there, once in awhile you may see a new face, but that is of some fellow who has made a deal with the boss and got a promise or is hanging about in hope of making and getting one.

It is a noble, gallant galaxy of captains and "lieutenants" and a brave host of messengers they marshal in the shape of ex-policemen, who jawed themselves out of their jobs, ex-street gangs, the old waterworks crew of renegades, who deserted their posts between two days and the swarming mass of county "pikers," who never miss a draught on the public funds and who never improved a highway.

Then there is the old assessment upon office holders, and candidates and "the touch" of interests and individuals, all yielding a plethora of gum. By-the-way, it is being noised around that the gang is going to fairly roll in wealth this campaign and there is something more than a mere rumor in that for it is going to blow something like $2,000 on a barbecue and it wouldn't do that unless its treasury were full to overflowing, for the gang places its store by "perfecting the organization and getting out the vote" and it always has money to burn when it comes to these purposes.

And these are the very things the fair and honest voter wants to dwell upon. "The gang's all" or any part of the salary paid here." What for and who pays it in the end? Why don't new men come to the front, why are only not demand made of him and his fellow servants to the boss order, for recovery instituted on his record to the front? All things fust!

change, but Boss Clark's henchmen never change. It's the same old faces, diversified only by a new recruit, but none ever rise; warping of circumstances, just to any higher position than that plain business that concerns the lackey to the boss. Strange, voter and the tax-payer, who have that in all this quarter of a century right to know all about it, because they foot the bill.

Now is the time above all others when the questions should be answered. The people are getting curious to know all that is going on at the court house. They have more than a suspicion that all there is not as it should be. They are weighing the gangsters, who have long ruled there, in the balance, an election is drawing near and with it they will determine which way the scale may tip.

Clean out the court house.

Seeks Data On Canals

Mrs. Louise Sillary, representing the National Magazine Syndicate, and who has attained considerable fame as a writer, is in town getting data for an article on the canals of Ohio, which she will prepare for the Syndicate publications.

LET THEM ANSWER.

The gang Janisaries are trying to make capital out of the fact that the city board of health, appointed by a Democratic mayor, but still composed of both Democrats and Republicans of standing, paid $123.25 for anti-toxine, used in an effort to save the life of a handsome, brave little lad, stricken with lockjaw.

The Democratic administration is willing to accept freely and unhesitatingly responsibility for that action. If the gangsters can make votes out of the fact that it spent $123.25 to save a life by means which science knows no better, it is welcome to them. Democrats don't want that kind.

But if the gangsters think money is worth more than the man, or the child, for that matter, we would be pleased to have them answer a question or two.

Something better than a year ago, the gang county commissioners secretly and illegally appointed an assistant prosecuting attorney; it is said as a reward for services to the gang. In the course of some weeks The Times discovered the appointment had been made, exposed it and denounced it as illegal. Notwithstanding all this and the further fact that the assistant was not apparently rendering any service to the prosecuting attorney elected the appointment was continued and the assistant drew his unlawful salary at the rate of $500 a year. The matter ran along thus indefinitely, until one day there came a ruling from the attorney general of the state, that county commissioners had no authority to appoint assistant prosecuting attorneys. Assumably upon the publication of that ruling the appointment of an assistant prosecuting attorney for Scioto county was revoked and payment of his salary unlawfully ceased.

Upon these indisputable facts, we build the questions of which on behalf of the people and the tax-payers we demand answer:

Why was an assistant prosecuting attorney thought necessary?

Why was the appointment kept secret?

Why was it made in plain and open violation of the law?

Why was it rescinded when the attorney general ruled it was illegal?

How much money was paid to the assistant prosecuting attorney?

Has he paid back to the county dwell upon. "The gang's all" or any part of the salary paid here." What for and who pays it in the end? Why don't new men come to the front, why are only not demand made of him and his fellow servants to the boss order, for recovery instituted on his record to the front? All things fust!

FRANK KLEFFNER DOING WELL

City Auditor William N. Gableman received an interesting letter Thursday from Frank Kleffner, of Spokane, Wash., formerly of Portsmouth. "Kleff" is now managing the Stockholm bar, one of the finest cafes in the city, and is doing well. He tells of Wesley Burt, former Portsmouth plumber, who has been in Spokane for some time, leaving for Lewiston, Idaho, to locate, and of Harry Kress going to Hilliard, Wash.

Frank says El A. Hodge, former lumberman and real estate man of this city, called on him the other day. Hodge is doing splendid with his fruit ranch, near Walla Walla, Wash., and will clear $5,000 on his crop of grapes and other fruits this year. Carp fishing is great in the vicinity where Hodge lives, for he has caught as high as 500 pounds of the finny tribe himself in a single day. "Kleff" also tells of seeing C. O. Brown and family and reports Mr. Brown as not being so well. He also mentioned about the Eagles getting into their new home, which was built to replace the one destroyed by fire a few months ago.

A POOR USE TO PUT WHISKY

The absentmindedness of the groom came dangerously near causing a serious ending to the honeymoon of a couple of newlyweds near Seventh and Court streets early Thursday morning.

John Dressler of the N. & W. signal department, had just installed his bride of a day in a home near the above corner and thought to keep some paperhangers and other workmen from laying hands on a quart bottle of rye whiskey he had. He concealed it inside of a stove. When John got up to prepare breakfast Thursday he had forgotten all about the bottle. He started a fire in the stove and the next instant there was an explosion. The top of the stove was blown out and the room filled with soot, while the young pair received the scare of their lives.

REVIVAL AFFECTED YOUNG GIRLS MIND?

A queer case of juvenile delinquency came up in probate court Thursday. Orpha Coriell, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Coriell, residing near South Webster, is the subject.

The girl was charged with leaving the house at night and sleeping along the roadside in vacant houses. She at one time moved her bed to a vacant house nearby and slept there several nights. She acknowledged to Judge Beatty that she had left home after night and stayed along the roadside but contended that she had never slept there. She said she would sit and listen to the dogs barking and cowbells jingling in the distance.

The father claims that she attended a revival meeting last winter and that she claimed to have been converted and that after that time she began to act strange and neglect her work. He said that he at one time had used a stick on her but the chastisement seemed to have no effect as she would continue to leave home at night and to disobey him. It is said she refused to go to school, but she told the judge that the reason she did not go was because she did not have books and clothes.

The judge is inclined to think that she has partly lost her mind but one of the physicians called in to examine her thinks otherwise. She was allowed to return home with her parents.

A WORD OF EXPLANATION. WHY?

The steady increase in our business shows that still more of the good people are opening accounts with us. We are daily adding new names to our already long list of depositors. There must be some reason for this. What is it? It is this: They have found that the road to wealth is by the way of the bank account, and that by our uniformly conservative methods, our courteous treatment of our customers, our steady increase and strength have proven that this is the place to open that account.

SOCIETY

With lavish and most artistic decorations of palms, ferns, Southern smilax and choice white and pink fall flowers, the palatial home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Anderson of Rose Ridge, was in ideal readiness for the wedding which took place there, Wednesday evening. The bride was the eldest child, Miss Maude Elizabeth Anderson, and the groom, Mr. Arthur Newton Horst, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Horst, three sons, and an exemplary young business man, who now holds a responsible position as manager of the third floor, at the great department store of Anderson Bros. Company. While the wedding guests the relatives and nearest friends were assembling in the parlors a locally famous pianist, Miss Ruth Ferguson, in gown of green silk, with French touch of pink, played most pleasingly, various airs de amour. The ushers, who guided the guests to seats, were, Mr. Herbert Pine of Dayton, a cousin of the groom and Mr. David Mitchell of this city.

The vocal soloist of the occasion was Mrs. Roy Rogers of Hillsboro, formerly Miss Leone McConaughy, a cousin of the bride and who wore her wedding gown of white satin finished with pearl and crystal trimming. Her selections, "O Promise Me," and "I Love You Truly," were sweetly sung, just previous to the entrance of the two little brothers of the bride, Masters William and Richard Anderson as ribbon bearers. The approach of the bridal party was heralded by the strains of the ever popular Lohengrin wedding march. First down the white be-ribboned aisle came the ushers and next the four lovely bridesmaids, Miss Emma Edwards with Miss Madge Love of Huntington, W. Va., Miss Mary McCall of Akron with Miss Margaret Barrere of Hillsboro, gowning similarly in simple white batiste made round length in up to date fashion and trimmed with white embroidery and lace on the low cut waists and short sleeves and modish drapery. Their flowers were fauety baskets of white dahlias and plumosa fern tied with wide white satin ribbons. This galaxy of beauty proceeded the handsome maid of honor, Miss Annie Anderson, a sister of the bride who came home from the O. W. C. U. Delaware, the brides' alma mater, to assist at the wedding. Her gown was an elegant pale green crepe de chine over light green Messaline made long train, modified hobble effect, and most exquisitely hand embroidered on the skirt and bodice with green jeweled motifs. Her flowers were fluffy white chrysanthemums secured with smilax strands. Last in the attractive procession came the beautiful bride with her distinguishing father, who gave her in marriage to the groom awaiting her at the cleverly improvised altar, in company with his best man Mr. Russell Anderson, the bride's eldest brother, an O. W. U. senior. Never was the lovable young bride more adorable than when arrayed in her bridal attire—a resplendent gown of white satin, fashioned with very long train, V shaped corsage, and short sleeves to meet the long white kid gloves. The trimmings on waist, sleeves and girdle, were crystal and pearl with which also the drapery on one side of the dress was staid in place. A shower of bride roses, secured with smilax and maline, surprised her bouquet. Her only jeweled ornament was a pearl pendant, a gift from the groom. The silken tulle bridal veil was adjusted with lilies of the Valley in style exceedingly becoming to the homie bride, who certainly was the cynosure of all admiring eyes. The ceremony was said by Rev. W. C. Hartinger, of Trinity M. E. church of which the bride is a faithful member. Congratulations sincere followed the impressive ring ceremony and preceded a delectable two course supper, deftly served by expert waiters. The table "neath the roseate tinted smilax trimmed large dome light, was unusually lovely in decorations of deep pink tinged Killarney roses, smilax and plumosa ferns, and pink and lilac silver shaded candles in tall candlesticks of silver and cut glass. At the large reception following the marriage and the wedding repast, the assistants in the hospitalities were as follows: Mrs. W. W. Anderson, Mrs. Charles Horst and Mrs. W. G. Williams, who invited guests to the dining room, Mrs. Charles Anderson, Mrs. James A. Hagar, Mrs. R. S. Rogers, Mrs. William Hamilton who presided at the coffee urns at each end of the table during different reception hours, Miss Ruth Ferguson, Grace Wendelken, Bessie Nave, Mrs. William Horst, who served the pink and white ices, cake and bon-bons, with salted almonds and coffee, Misses Miriam Crawford and Annie Anderson who pinched the favors, heart shaped cards, tied with white, ribbons and inscribed in gold with the letters H. and A. The articles secreted in the cake were not found, excepting the dime by Mrs. W. G. Williams and the ring by Miss Ruth Ferguson. Instead of throwing her bouquet the bride gave it to her mother, a favor highly appreciated. The wedding gifts on display in an upstairs room were only part of the many valuable presents, including many pieces of furniture etc., sent directly to the future home of the happy couple at No. 371 Sixth avenue. The bride's gifts to her maids were to the maid of honor, a silver card case and to each of the four other maids, a silver purse. The groom presented a silver cigarette case to his best man, lovely stick pins to the two ushers and also to the two little men who carried the ribbons so successfully, and also had charge of the refreshing nectar on the large front veranda. Briefly noted some of the toilets were as follows: Mrs. W. B. Anderson, mother of the bride, grey messaline. Mrs. William Horst, the groom's mother, grey silk. Mrs. Charles Anderson, white net and lace over white silk, with becoming picture hat, trimmed with white willow plumes and pink French roses. Mrs. Warwick Anderson, pink satin with satin braided net finish. Mrs. Charles Horst, her wedding gown of white chiffon cloth. Mrs. William Horst, Jr., old rose silk. Mrs. Newton Warwick, black lace over black silk. Mrs. Margaret Thomas, black silk. Miss Charlotte Thomas, blue silk. Mrs. A. J. Hawk, blue silk. Mrs. McConaughy, grey silk. Mrs. Eletha Hibbs, black silk. Miss Miriam Crawford, Miss Annie Anderson, girlish gowns of white. Mrs. Robert Pine, grey silk. Mrs. W. H. Newcomb, white silk. Mrs. William Hamilton, her wedding gown of white satin. As is the present day custom of Portsmouth brides and grooms the newly wedded couple would not tell where they were going for the conventional wedding trip but said they would soon come home as they were anxious to go to housekeeping in their own home with all of their wedding gifts from near and afar. The bride's going away gown was a dark blue cloth tailored suit, with harmonious hat and gloves. Today it was loaned the bride and groom, escaped their friends of vice and old shoe fame and went to their own home, where they remained until the O. & O. train Thursday afternoon. That they in their wedded life, begun so auspiciously, may ever be prosperous and happy is the wish of the entire community, where both bride and groom were born and reared and where they are deservedly popular. The out of town wedding guests besides those above mentioned, were Mr. Charles Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Newcomb of Huntington, W. Va., Dr. J. N. W. Crawford, of Geneva, Switzerland, Mrs. Eletha Hibbs and son Mr. Joseph Hibbs, Mrs. Sarah McConaughy, Dr. Roy Rogers, Mr. Earl Miller, all of Hillsboro; Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Hawk of Chillicothe; Mrs. Newton Warwick of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Margaret Thomas and daughter, Miss Charlotte of Leesville, all relatives of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gates' visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pine and son, Mr. Robert Pine of Dayton, relatives of the groom; Mr. William Hamilton, of Biford. On Wednesday evening Mr. G. F. Keller of Williamsburg, was wedded to Miss Fannie Viers of Pritchard, W. Va., at the home of relatives, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Finley of East Eleventh. Elder J. W. Dillon officiated in the presence of the following witnesses, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Miller of this city, Mrs. S. W. Spangler and Mrs. Susan Pount of Pritchard, W. Va., cousins of the bride. The happy couple left Thursday for their future home at Williamsburg. The bride's wedding dress was dainty white and her traveling gown a stylish fall gown with hat and gloves en suite. Congratulations are extended.

N. & W. Officials In Columbus

The Columbus Journal says: "N. D. Maher, general manager and George P. Johnson, general superintendent of the Norfolk and Western railway, were in Columbus yesterday the guests of officials of the Concrete Materials company. This company has recently opened a modern sand and gravel plant in the western part of the city and the N. & W. is now talking of making a contract with the local company for a large amount of its products. The material will be used in the great amount of new construction, which the railroad now has under way between here and Kenova, in the double tracking and other improvements. "The Concrete Materials company was organized last fall by John T. Adams, who has the contracts for much of the grade crossing elimination work on the West Side and what is said to be the largest plant of its kind in the country was erected. A number of local business men are interested with Mr. Adams and the products of the company have been attracting much attention. The visiting railway men expressed themselves as much pleased with the local plant and it is probable that large contracts will come here."

The announcement came as a great surprise as the game next Saturday with Wellston is one of the biggest on the schedule and will demand a team of considerable strength.

Assistant Coach Karl Zoellner, who was out with the team Wednesday afternoon declares Portsmouth high will defeat Wellston easily next Saturday in spite of the handicap imposed on the aggregation by the elimination of several players.

FIRE SCARE ON HILLTOP

A garbage box at the rear of Attorney Henry T. Bannion's home on Greenlawn Heights caught fire in some manner early Thursday morning and threatened to spread to adjoining out buildings.

It was close to 4 o'clock when a neighbor woman was aroused by the smell of smoke and looking out of a window was startled at the sight of flames spreading along the fence at the rear of the Bannion premises. Her screams were heard by Judge James W. Bannion and he quickly telephoned in an alarm. The Hill Top fire company extinguished the blaze with trifling loss. It is thought that someone tossed a lighted cigar stump into the garbage box setting fire to some paper.

ITCHING, BLEEDING ECZEMA WAS CURED

By Cuticura After 5 Years of Suffering Beyond Description—Thought Death was Near—Calls Cure Wonderful.

"No tongue can tell how I suffered for five years with itching and bleeding eczema, until I was cured by the Cuticura Remedies. I am so grateful I want the world to know. For what helped me will help others. My body and face were covered with sores. One day it would seem to be better, and then break out again with the most terrible pain and itching. I have been sick several times, but never in my life did I experience such awful suffering as with this eczema. I had made up my mind that death was near at hand, and I longed for that time when I would be at rest. I had tried many different doctors and medicines without success, and my mother brought me the Cuticura Remedies, insisting that I try them. I began to feel better after the first bath with Cuticura Soap, and one application of Cuticura Ointment. I continued with the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and have taken four bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, and consider myself well. This was nine years ago and I have had no return of the trouble since. Any person having any doubt about this wonderful cure by the Cuticura Remedies can write to my address. Mrs. Alta Eason, 93 1/2th Road, Battle Creek, Mich., Oct. 16, 1909."

Harsha's Auto Goes On A Tear

When P. H. Harsha, well known mill owner, cranked his Ford automobile, which was standing in front of his residence on Waller street, Wednesday morning, he was never more surprised in his life than when the machine started up with a leap. Mr. Harsha narrowly escaped being run over.

The auto went a short distance and then hit a tree and turned over. The radiator of the machine was smashed and the front axle bent. It was discovered that some one, presumably neighborhood children who had been playing in the vicinity, had shoved on the high gear clutch with the result that the auto started the minute the engine started.

Drugged By Whiskey, Pretty Woman Comes Very Near To Death

Drugged by the man she once loved, from which she did not awaken until midnight. She was still violently ill Thursday morning and it was deemed best to remove her to Hempstead hospital.

The young woman's sad plight has not as yet been fully explained for information was exacted from her only piece-meal. She had come to Portsmouth on a C. & O. train Tuesday she said and taken a street car to East Portsmouth where she met Marion Smith, an N. & W. trainman, whom she had married five years ago. She was then but 18 years of age and lived with him only a month. She accompanied him to his boarding place but did not occupy the same room with him. Next day he pawned his watch. This the police found to be true as indicated by a slip filed by Pawnbroker Joe Reiser, he allowing Smith $10 on his watch Wednesday morning, Oct. 5th. They crossed the river together Wednesday noon going to Catlettsburg. He took her to a rear room of a restaurant and there and clothes disarranged. The physician administered to her and whiskey telling her it would do her good. That was the last she remembered until she woke up on the N. & W. train in time to see Smith alight at New Boston. She made no effort to explain her unending with him after years of separation. She claimed to be the daughter of M. E. Wallace, a retired Huntington carpenter. Someone in the crowd at the depot evidently recognized the girl for as he stepped up to the police he remarked "Give her the best of care for her people will gladly pay all expenses." The man disappeared before his identity could be learned.

The young woman is fairly good looking and was rather neatly attired. Chief McCarty has decided to make a rigid examination and Smith will be called to account.

Smith surprised the police officials by showing up at headquarters Thursday morning just at a time when they were trying to learn his whereabouts. He disclaimed responsibility for his young wife's condition but said he was willing to bear the expense of her care while a patient at the hospital. He said they had lived together but 11 days since their marriage three years ago, giving his own present age as 20 years. He had not sent for her to come here but gladly accompanied her on a trip to Catlettsburg. Finding she was fixing to get drunk he tried to get her to go back to her home in Huntington but she refused. They went to Kenova and boarded an N. & W. train. He himself had a pint of whiskey and as the train crossed the Kenova bridge he dumped it out of a car window, so that she would get none of its contents. This enraged her and leaving his side took up with a stranger in the smoking car. This man, Smith said, gave her some whiskey and she became beastly drunk. Smith said she had gotten in the same condition once before during a trip to Cincinnati and spent several days in a hospital there. He said she came of a respectable family of fairly good means and upon his promise to communicate with her mother and pay the doctor and hospital bills he was allowed to go. He is at present employed on the new track scales at the East Portsmouth terminals.

UNCLE TOM IS COMING

Al. W. Martin's grand superb spectacular revival of that everlasting old play, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which will be seen at the Grand Saturday, matinee and night, promises to be a theatrical treat in every sense of the word. The company this year is bigger, better and brighter than ever and numbers over fifty people, among which are twenty negroes from the sunny South, who have been especially engaged to fill out the many pretty pictures of the play and present their famous songs, dances and plantation "shines." So thorough and pleasing has been the production under the management of Mr. Martin that the press, public and pulpit have unanimously sung its praises and thousands upon thousands have attended. It required two 70-foot cars to transport the special scenery. Thirty head of horses, ponies, donkeys, burros, bloodhounds, log cabin and other numerous novelties to make it the largest production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" ever attempted by anyone. The street parade will start from the theatre.

EVENING TIMES SPORTS

Cincinnati Reds Here on Oct. 29th

President Will N. Gableman of the Champion Cobblers, Thursday received a message from Business Manager Frank Bancroft, of the Cincinnati Reds, asking that the Red barnstormers be booked for a game here on Saturday, October 29. The offer was immediately accepted and the announcement of the coming of the Red troupe on their annual visit will be hailed with delight by Portsmouth fans. Portsmouth fans will not only be afforded an opportunity of seeing the big leaguers in action, but will see many favorite local boys who have spread the fame of the Peerless in the baseball world as well as other equally famous players from this section pitted against the Queen City's noble fifth place.

Local players will be drifting home between now and the last of the month from the season's campaign, and President Gableman will have a strong bunch recruited to "back" the Cincinnati outfit. In the lineup will be such stars as Al Bridwell, Fred Hunter, Chas. Spencer, Mike O'Day, Wes. Hornung, Chas. Stillwell, Keller, Goodrich, De Lotello, and either club will have to go some to get the verdict.

An effort is to be made to have Barney Schreiber, the big Waverly side-wheeler pitch the game. Schreiber had a fine season at Denver, and has been drafted by the Cincinnati club for next season. He has many friends who predict that he will stick in the big show, and it is hoped that he will consent to twirl the game, in order to give his friends in this vicinity an opportunity to see just how good he can perform in the center of the diamond since climbing upward.

The business end will be looked after by President Gableman, and the event will be in the way of a benefit for the local players and those taking part in the contest. It will be the last game of any consequence of the season at Millbrook, and barring unfavorable weather, a great crowd will certainly be present. It will be the biggest baseball event of the season in Portsmouth outside of the winning of the Ohio State pennant by the Childs brigade.

Allen Sangree Picks Athletics

Allen Sangree, baseball writer on the New York Journal and considered as one of the most conservative judges in the country, picks the Athletics as winners over the Cubs. Sangree is a rank American League, but declares in a little prelude that this has not influenced him one iota in making his selection. He says in part:

"I have seen American League clubs triumph in these world series games. Boston beat Pittsburgh, the White Sox beat the Cubs. Charles Murphy was an exceedingly fortunate young man when he managed to get hold of the Chicago National League. Murphy found a club in its organization of a perfect machine."

"History is not of much interest at present. One naturally is figuring on the Clubs' chances this year. After the Jeffries-Johnson winner picking fiasco, one is leery about going ahead on any sporting event. And yet I have just a little bit of confidence in picking the Athletics to beat Chicago this season. If the result is otherwise it will have to be accounted for by the poor condition of Coombs, Bender and Morgan."

"The situation is simply this: Philadelphia has a better pitching staff; Chicago excels in backstop. When Mack gets Chicago, he must beat Kling."

"It is a rather singular notion the little has been said of Kling this year. And yet, will you notice that Chicago could not win the pennant last year without him, and this year Chicago wins a pennant with him? Therefore, hence, Kling must be a great factor in coping with the series games."

"Well, here is how he does it. He hits the hit-and-run from first base. Give me a moment and I'll explain it. But, as a starter, let me predict: If Mack goes along with that old hit-and-run stuff from first, Kling will kill seven out of ten times."

"The Philadelphia machine has very little on the Chicago wheels, then, the averages show that Mack has a slight percentage on Franco Chance. This decision will be made, if Mack tries to advance his men from first to second. Kling is the artisan. He kills the hit-and-run by wasting the ball. If Collins goes first and wants to be advanced, Kling will kill seven out of ten times."

"I will sign the pitcher for a 'free' ball," Kling says. "I'll keep on running for a waste ball until that runner goes from first base and then I'll peg him out."

"If Mack is going to win this series he must give Kling something. I think Mack is smart enough to do this. With the pitchers he's got he can play the offensive game and beat Kling to it. Kling will and all that hit-and-run stuff from

WOLGAST HAS BROKEN ARM

Chicago, Oct. 6.—Tom Jones, manager of Ad Wolgast, is back from Cadillac, Mich., where an X-ray examination was made of the lightweight champion's arm, which was broken in his fight with Tommy McFarland in Fondulac, Wis., last Thursday. Jones is downcast over the injury, which is far more serious than first anticipated. Close friends of Wolgast fear that his days as a champion are ended as in his last two fights he has broken the same arm twice, each time in a different place. Even Jones admits that Wolgast will not be able to fight for four or five months, and that he will remain at his home until thoroughly recovered from the injury.

BLACK CHAMP WILL RACE OLDFIELD

New York, Oct. 6.—The oft-rumored auto race between Barney Oldfield and Jack Johnson, champion heavyweight pugilist, will be held at the Sheepshead Bay track on October 20. Announcement of the date was made tonight by Lou M. Housman, of Chicago, and Charles Moran, of this city, who said that they have leased the track for the day mentioned and already have Johnson's signature to the agreement. Oldfield also has agreed, according to his manager, William Pickens, and will sign up within a few days. He is now at Springfield, Ill.

Negotiations for the race have been in progress for two months. Johnson, not content with ring to this, with the pitchers he's got he can play the offensive game and beat Kling to it. Kling will and all that hit-and-run stuff from

REDS TO PLAY AT MARION TWO TEAMS AT CHILLICOTHE

Marion, O., Oct. 6.—Unless present plans miscarry the local officials of the Ohio State league announced Wednesday that Marion fans will see the Cincinnati Reds in action next Wednesday. The game here will come during the Cleveland-Cincinnati series, Wednesday being an off day for the Reds while transferring from Cincinnati to Cleveland.

MIKE O'DAY HAS A NEW BOSS

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 6.—Jas. Burke, late manager of the Fort Wayne team, which gave the South Bend team such a hard fight for the pennant, today signed a contract with President Watkins, of the Indianapolis American Association club, to manage the Indianapolis team in 1911. The terms were not made public, but it is said that the sum is a large one for a minor league and the contract is for one year only. Burke will manage from the bench.

Burke made his appearance in the A. A. at the helm of George Toole's Kansas City team and later was shifted to Louisville, where he became the idol of the fans. Burke succeeded Kid Nichols as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals in May, 1905, and remained there through-out that year, then going to Kansas City.

It was in 1903 that Burke achieved fame in the A. A., when he gave the Indians such a hard fight for the pennant, but the year following under the sixteen-player rule limit, Toole wanted to cut his salary and he resigned the managership of Louisville and played third base for the Indians in 1909. He was a free agent when the Central League season closed and was also mentioned for pilot of the Memphis Southern League club. Burke returned to his home in St. Louis last night.

GIANTS MADE FAVORITES

New York, Oct. 6.—There was much talk of the coming series between the Hilltops and the Giants yesterday and a few bets were made. One man bet $70 against $50 on the Giants. Those odds look a little too big considering the relative strength of the teams. It was rumored that a bet had been made downtown of $1500 against $1200 on the Giants, and Julius Kaufmann bet $100 even. He also picked the Giants. The general opinion seems to be that the Giants will be made favorites in the betting on account of their hitting ability. The records show that the Giants are better hitters. It would be difficult to figure on that, however, as both teams will be facing strange pitchers.

Committee To Meet.
The Finance Committee of the Billy Sunday organization will meet tonight at the Selby factory.

'Ty' Cobb, Demon Hitter, to Race Motor Cars With 'Nap' Rucker the Southpaw

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 6.—Ty Cobb of Royston, Ga., and Napoleon Rucker of Crabsapple, Ga., will meet this fall on the Atlanta Automobile Association's Speedway in a match race for the Speedway championship of the big leagues.

Cobb is battling heavily now for possession of the Chalmers automobile offered for the big leagues' best batter this year, and stands a good show of winning it. If he does he may drive that machine against Rucker's own car, a speedy Buick. If the men do not drive their own machines they will use cars selected from the array that will be on hand for the fall races.

Cobb has long been an automobile bug of the most pronounced type. Last fall he drove a machine in the Atlanta Journal-New York Herald New York-to-Atlanta run, and was one of the warmest fans at the Speedway meet.

Rucker is a driver of several years' standing. One day, a few years back, he walked into the local Buick agency, and he wanted to look at an automobile, found one that suited his fancy and nearly knocked the salesman cold by peeling the coin off a monumental roll of bills and driving away in the machine.

It has not been decided in just what sort of a race the famous Cracker ball players will meet, but it will probably be in a ten mile affair.

They have agreed to drive a heat a day, and they will be allowed to select their own distance. It is likely that they will pick ten miles.

It is suspected that the news that these two men will race on the Atlanta Speedway will not be hailed with any great amount of joy by President Navin of the Detroit team and Ebbels of the Brooklyn team. Navin would probably consider the fact that he has first call on Cobb's services worth $40,000 or $50,000. It isn't every day that a man picks up the greatest ball player in the world, and when he is once conquered he is worth money. But if he happened to break his neck on an automobile track it would mean a dead loss of a large amount of coin.

Rucker is not, of course, such a drawing card as Cobb, but he is worth a lot of money. It is doubtful if $20,000 would buy him—probably it would take more. So that means that President Ebbels is not going to be so tickled either.

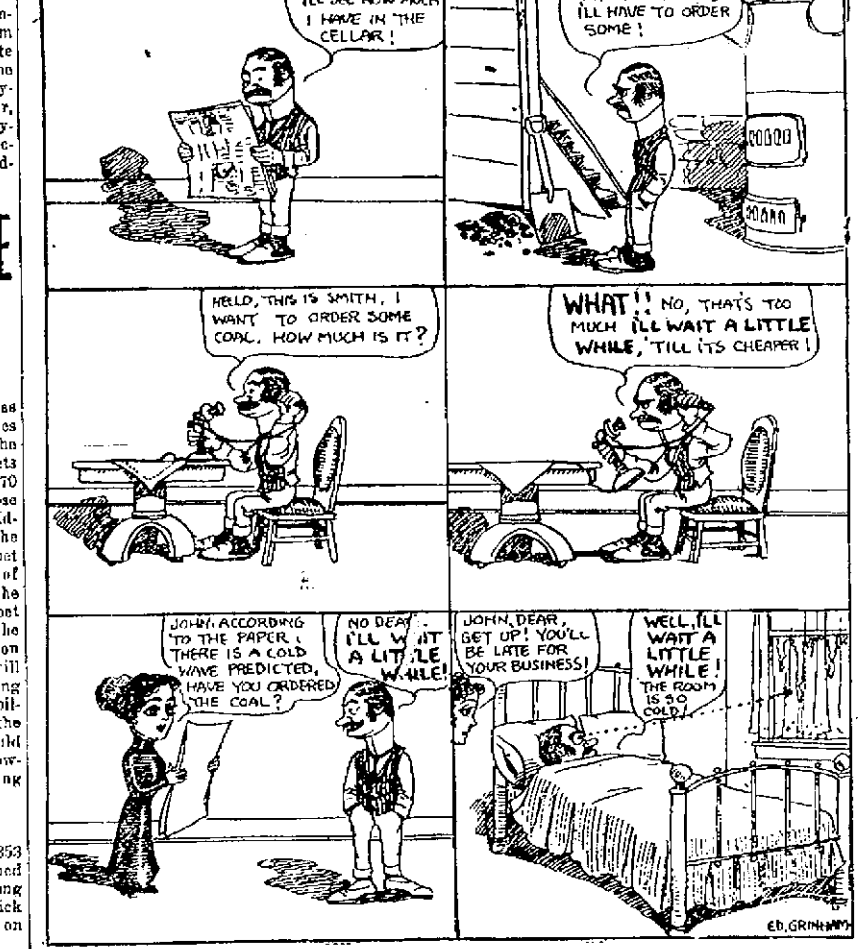

However, both men have positively agreed to race.

John and Lou Weghorst and others of that well known family of this city and Duena Vista on Thursday received their shares of an estate left by an uncle, the late William Weghorst of Cincinnati. It is the first division of property owned by him in the town of Norwood and they received about $100 each. The personal property will be divided later and suit is promised as the widow's relatives are contesting the will. Attorneys Bannan & Bannan succeeded in securing a settlement for the Weghorst heirs.

Lawrence P. Maher, the jovial manager of Fuller Bros.' undertaking establishment, is wondering what he has done to incur the ill will of the Black Hand society. Doe handled the strange object with utmost care fearing perhaps it might be a bomb and is seriously thinking of turning same over to Police Chief McCarthy for investigation.

Boost Bill For Now At Sun Theatre

With the funniest monologist in business, two good musical acts and a sketch which gives a thrilling "windup," the Hipp show last night was well up to the excellent average that has been maintained these three years.

George Banks, the comedian, is good—very good. His work combines singing, dancing and monologue and in the latter he excels. He creates sixteen laughs per minute—all full grown.

The sketch, "The Grand Wind-up," furnished a fitting "windup" for an excellent show. It ends with a real and thrilling boxing contest. The plot is novel and interesting, involving a heart-interest story.

The above appeared in the Huntington Advertiser. The same bill spoken of in the article is now showing at the new Sun theatre in Portsmouth.

Goes Over Same Ground

Paul Daley, of Cincinnati, who lectured the first of the week in Portsmouth on the "White Slave Traffic," was heard on the same subject at the Y. M. C. A. building, Terminals, Wednesday evening. A large audience listened in quick interest to him go over substantially the same talk as he made in the city, varying it, however, to some extent by rapping the employed as well as the employer.

Willard Stampor, of Greenup, has accepted a position with B. Augustin, Jr., of Portsmouth, as traveling salesman.

John Gabler, prominent liveryman of South Webster, has just completed the erection of a modern livery barn in that town.

SHADES OF DEAD DO YE SEE THIS

"COMING HERE."

"The Foremost Men of Ohio"

"SUCH DISTINGUISHED STATESMEN HAVE NEVER BEFORE MET IN SCIOTO COUNTY."

WARREN G. HARDING, NEXT GOVERNOR OF OHIO, SENATOR CHARLES F. DICK, ATTORNEY GENERAL DENMAN AND CONGRESSMAN NICHOLAS LONGWORTH."

Shades of the dead and shadow of the living! Read that.

It is a copy of a full sheet poster, with which the gang committee have plastered the dead walls of the city and county, announcing a barbecue on Oct. 8th. Dead walls is good, it suggests other "dead ones," present and prospective.

But think of that "the foremost statesmen of Ohio" and "Congressman Nicholas Longworth."

Harding, statesman, land in reputation of his own career as state senator, the only time he ever posed as statesman, protesting to-day he is for compulsory arbitration, when as senator, no later than 1905, he, in the language of his author, helped to "bodily throw the compulsory arbitration bill out of the window; Harding, statesman, who denounced Roosevelt and lauds Taft; Harding, the statesman, who stands by Boss Cox as "a great, big, manly man, wise in council, trusted in advice, just in judgment, elevating his head high above the storm of calumny and we yield deference and devotion to him." Deference and devotion to Cox is particularly good and true and an undoubted hall mark of the statesman—the kind Ohio has had too much of already.

Dick, the ineffable Dick, statesman! It is enough to turn the stomach, the mere mention of Dick and statesman together.

Drumman, the statesman, a year in office before he discovered the coarse graft all about him and who has not yet brought suit against a horde of party grafters.

The best of the feast is reserved for the last, "Congressman Nicholas Longworth," statesman, who the devil is he? We must plead ignorance of him. We know a fellow named Nick Longworth, a congressman by the way, though we never heard anyone accuse him of being a statesman. All the fame he enjoys is because he is the son-in-law of his daddy-in-law.

But the absurdity of a town, which has been visited by Quincy Adams, Andrew Jackson, Ulysses Grant, Thurman, Hendricks, Sherman, Blaine, Bryan, McKinley, Sheridan, Hayes, Hanna, Allen, Brough, Beck, Pugh, Foraker and others of the calibre, being told it has never seen congregated such "distinguished statesmen as those who will meet here Saturday."

Why on one day this town entertained Vice President Hendricks, Governor Bill Allen and Senator Beck, of Kentucky and heard them speak. To put the array of Saturday against them is like standing pignies by the side of giants.

And what of that memorable "Blaine day," when Blaine and Logan, with a battalion of other national characters were here and so many people that the town could scarcely hold them!

ALL MY PIMPLES GONE

Girl Tells How a Blotchy Skin Was Cleaned by a Simple Wash.

"I was ashamed of my face," writes Miss Minnie Pickard, of Alameda, N. C. "It was all full of pimples and scars, but after using D. D. D. Prescription I can say that now there is no sign of that Eczema, and that was three years ago."

D. D. D. has become so famous as a cure and instant relief in Eczema and all other serious skin diseases, that its value is sometimes overlooked in clearing up rash, pimples, blackheads, and all other minor forms of skin impurities.

The fact is, that while D. D. D. is so penetrating that it strikes to the very root of Eczema or any other serious trouble, the soothing Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients are so carefully compounded there is no wash for the skin made that can compare with this great household remedy for every kind of skin trouble.

D. D. D. is pleasant to use, perfectly harmless to the most delicate skin and absolutely reliable. A 25-cent bottle will give you positive proof of the wonderful effectiveness of this great remedy. Fisher & Streich, druggists.

FILE ANSWER IN DAMAGE CASE

Attorneys Bannon and Bannon on behalf of the Norfolk & Western Railway Company, defendants, in a suit for damages brought by James P. Lewis, as administrator of the estate of Manley Lewis, who was killed in September, 1908, while in the employ of the company as a brakeman, has filed an answer in which they deny that the railway company was in any manner responsible for his death by reason of negligence on its part. On the other hand the company alleges that Lewis was guilty of negligence which contributed directly to his death.

Origin Of Fire.

Atty. H. T. Bannon has ascertained the origin of the fire at his residence early on Thursday morning. He says the blaze had started from spontaneous combustion caused from cloths saturated with turpentine and boiled oil used in cleaning hardwood floors. They had a fire scare that started in the kitchen from the same cause last year.

Rain Is Welcomed.

The rain Thursday was welcomed by everybody for it cleared the atmosphere of dust and will have a tendency to shut down on the diphtheria which disease is quite prevalent in many quarters about town and dispense the fear of the contagion becoming epidemic.

MEETS DEATH AT WAKEFIELD

Samuel Whaley, an old soldier, who formerly resided on the West Side, but who for some time has lived near Wakefield, was hit by an N. & W. train Wednesday morning above Wakefield and died a few minutes afterwards. One leg was cut off, and he was badly crushed across the hips.

Whaley had been gathering coal along the N. & W. tracks. The system at this point is double tracked and he was walking between the tracks. A train came along, and confused, he stepped on the wrong track. He was hit and tossed off on one side. The train was stopped and the crew and people who had witnessed the accident, ran to his aid. He breathed his last ten minutes later.

Whaley and his daughter, Alice, who survives him, had resided in a small house a quarter of a mile above Wakefield.

News of the death was received Wednesday afternoon over the telephone, by his brother, John Whaley, well known West Side farmer. Mr. Whaley left Thursday morning to attend his brother's funeral.

A strange coincidence is that Samuel Whaley's son-in-law, Michael Southworth, was killed last spring near Wakefield in the same manner.
